A symposium on

Structural Engineering: The Way Forward

About the symposium

“Structural Engineering: The Way Forward” is a special symposium focusing on five thrust areas of Structural Engineering - Education, Research, Practice, Policy and Collaboration. With recent advances in materials, technology and industrial revolution 4.0, it is important for Structural Engineering to upgrade itself to solve the challenges of the modern world. With an aim to build safe, resilient and sustainable infrastructure for the future, the symposium will address the pressing issues and what to look forward to in the future.

This is also an occasion to celebrate the contributions of Prof. Devdas Menon towards Structural Engineering. Invited speakers and a few collaborators of Prof. Menon will share insights on the latest happenings in their domains of expertise.

Who can participate?

Practicing engineers, researchers, students and faculty members, with a background in Civil Engineering, can attend to explore the latest developments in the field of structural engineering.
